Thank you for your enquiry regarding the course to become a Marriage Celebrant. From February 2010, all participants intending on applying to the Attorney-General’s Department must have completed the Certificate IV in Celebrancy.

There are two options for study: Face to face classes, and online Distance Education.

Face to face

The Australian Institute of Education and Training is now delivering the CHC42608 Certificate IV in Celebrancy, which includes the five compulsory units. The eleven-day course we have developed will provide you with the required competencies for this qualification, and allow you to apply to the Attorney-General’s Department to become a Civil Marriage Celebrant. Please be aware, however, that we cannot guarantee that you will gain appointment as a celebrant; however, in order to apply, you must have the completed qualification. If you attend our course and complete the course requirements, we will mail out to you a certificate of completion for the CHC42608 Certificate IV in Celebrancy, and you will be eligible to apply for registration to become a marriage celebrant.

Further information regarding the application process can be obtained from the Attorney-General Department’s web site at www.ag.gov.au/celebrants. Please note that we are unable to assist with the application process.

We run the face-to-face course at our premises – 517 Victoria Street, Brunswick West. We run small class sizes – a maximum of 10 people, and we register applicants upon receipt of payment. The course has been popular to date.

The course is nationally-recognised, and our trainer is qualified.

As the course is completed online, the assessor that is assigned to you can see when you complete activities and can provide you with feedback on a regular basis, generally within 48 – 72 hours of you completing an activity. In this way you can see how you are going, receive feedback, request assistance, and log your progress through the course.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any further queries, or return the registration form if you wish to enrol.

We have a student handbook on our website which we ask you to read prior to signing the Registration Form. The student handbook is available on line by going to our web site at http://www.aiet.edu.au; and selecting the Training tab.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. When can I start the course?

Straight away, basically. Once you send your registration form back to us we will confirm with you by e-mail that we have received it. We will process it along with your payment, and we will then mail you the details you require in order to log in to the web site. Once you have your log in details, you can start straight away, generally within 72 hours of us receiving your registration form.

2. What does the course cover?

The course includes all thirteen (13) units in the CHC42608 Certificate IV in Celebrancy, which includes the required units to apply to the Attorney-General’s Department to be an authorised celebrant.

3. When does the Semester start?

With our Distance Education courses, we don’t believe in making you wait until the ‘start’ of a semester. You can start straight away (see question 1).

4. Are you a marriage celebrant yourself?

Currently, one of our assessors is a registered civil marriage celebrant. We are also experienced trainers and assessors, and we do liaise with marriage celebrants and maintain them as industry experts. Periodically we meet with these celebrants to discuss our training program to ensure that it meets the requirements of the industry. We also maintain links with Celebrants Australia (http://www.celebrantsaustralia.asn.au/)

5. How many of your graduates are now practicing celebrants?

We currently have many of our graduates as authorised celebrants. Many of the members of Celebrants Australia have completed training programs with us. Our first set of graduates completed the course in March 2004.
6. How long does the course take?

We think it will take you approximately 120 – 150 hours, but because it is a Distance Education course, times to complete the course will vary from student to student.

7. What equipment and materials do I need?

You need Internet access, e-mail, a video camera, and the required reading material mentioned earlier.

8. So what does the course cost?

$1,200. We keep our overhead costs as low as possible to pass these savings on to our students, so we offer the course at a reasonable cost. Our mission statement states that we are committed to offering high quality programs to our students at affordable and ethical prices.

9. How am I assessed?

The course is assessed by competency-based assessment. This means that there are no exams. If you complete all of the activities and projects to the required standard, then you are assessed as competent for each activity, and therefore competent for the qualification.

10. What happens if I fail the course?

We don’t have any ‘fail’ in our course. There is ‘pass’ (or ‘competent’). If you haven’t completed the course, or some of the work needs to be re-submitted, then we call it ‘More Evidence Required’.

11. How long do I get to finish the course?

There is no cut-off date for completing the course; however, we would suggest you plan on taking six months to complete it, and not more than 12 months.

abarnes@aiet.com.au

Connie Barnes
Mobile: 0409 029 848
cbarnes@aiet.com.au
12. Once I finish the course, can I then start performing wedding ceremonies?

No, this course gives you one piece of evidence to use in your application to the Attorney-General’s Department. Ring them to get the application form.

13. Which part of the course goes through how to fill in the application form?

We are not allowed to coach you or help you fill in the application form. If you have any questions, we suggest you call the Attorney-General’s Department.

14. Are we left on our own to do the course?

No, we support you all the way. You can e-mail us or phone us any time you wish. Please remember that if you are interstate, there may be time differences, so if it is 4 PM in your state, it might be 6 PM in Victoria, and we work 9 – 5 each day. We have an answering machine – don’t hang up, please leave a message if it comes on. We are pretty busy, and we do run training programs here on average three days a week, but we will get back to you as soon as we can, generally within 24 hours if you ring.

15. How long does it take you to look at the work and get back to me?

We do run face to face training sessions on average three days a week so we are not always available to assess submissions. We do aim to assess submissions within 3 business days.

16. Is this a real course?

Yes, it is nationally recognised all around Australia.

Please feel free to contact us if you have any further queries, or return the registration form if you wish to enrol.

For further information, please also visit the Attorney-General Department web site on www.ag.gov.au/celebrants.
